CAL'S NEW HOME.

It begins to look like Silent Cal is out of politics. After living for many years in a two-family dwelling, exceeding a few years when Massachusetts and the nation furnished him with an official residence, the former president has purchased a home, described as containing "an elevator, four baths and telephone connections on each floor."

Besides, we read, it has sixteen rooms, an outdoor swimming pool, tennis court and abundant flower gardens. It is on a nine-acre tract of land, with an entrance marked by two granite posts.

Well, he deserves the home, but we are afraid that it will lose him the poor man's vote.

NOT AGREEING WITH A LADY.

In the investigation going on at Washington, where the "drys" and the "wets" are each having their say concerning prohibition. Mrs. Boole, representative of the W. C. T. U., declared "the eighteenth amendment will last as long as the nineteenth, which gives votes to women." Sorry we cannot agree with the lady, as we believe just the contrary. Enforcement of Prohibition statutes has been a farce from the day they were enacted, and as time goes on we see no hope of a change for the better.

TAKING THE CENSUS.

The work of taking the census is underway in Hancock county. Our people, we feel sure, are too intelligent to require being told that it is important that they co-operate with the enumerators.

However, the citizens generally can be of assistance in the census by being prompt and ready with their replies, thus enabling the workers to get through their arduous undertaking as expeditiously as possible.

Lumberton is to have a $65,000 postoffice building and its construction will start at an early date.

With Lester C. Franklin definitely out of the running it is being rumored that T. Weber Wilson will be the Bilbo candidate for governor.

Greene county voters have decided that there is no need for the office of county attorney, and so registered their will by a big majority in the election held last week.

"The Mississippi Oil Review," a weekly publication devoted to the development of oil and gas in this State has made its appearance at Jackson. In its initial issue, the new paper states that its purpose is to "make Jackson the Tulsa of Mississippi." The Echo hopes that such purpose will be accomplished.

A pension of $70.00 per month has been granted to Hon. James K. Vardaman as a Spanish-American war veteran. Broken in health, both physically and mentally, this once great power in Mississippi affairs had almost dropped from public notice, and even his old foes as well as old friends are glad that his country shows belated appreciation of his services as a soldier.

One of the things which will result from the census now being taken will be that several States will have their representation in the Lower House of Congress cut down—Mississippi being among the number. The Echo will shed no tears or have any regrets to express thereat, as it does not see any good in a big delegation of congressmen from any southern State since they are always Democrats and are treated like stepchildren at Washington anyhow.

If Judge Paul Johnson of Hattiesburg decides to get into the race for governor next year, he will sweep South Mississippi like a brand new broom, and he has a strong following in all other sections of the State. He has not been allied or mixed up with either faction of politicians who have made a holy mess of governmental affairs in the State during the past decade. The Echo believes Judge Johnson would make an ideal chief executive and his election would redound to the benefit of Mississippi, therefore it hopes that his candidacy will be announced in due time.

Nearly every one of The Echo's exchanges coming to our desk the past week carry beautiful and touching tributes to the memory of Frank R. Birdsall, late editor of the Yazoo Sentinel, who met his death at the hands of a ruthless murderer some days since. No man ever connected with the press in Mississippi stood higher in the esteem of his fellow-craftsmen than did the lamented Yazoo City editor, and his untimely and tragic end is sincerely mourned by all who knew him.

The manager of the Saenger Theater at Hattiesburg has been arrested again, not for violating the so-called Sunday law as was the charge against him a while back, but "for publicly advertising obscene and indecent" pictures. It seems that the city officials were moved to act by the display of a poster which "portrayed a young woman in abbreviated attire reclining on a couch, and with several men in silk hats paying court at her knee." If the men wore only silk hats we think the city officials were right in having the manager arrested.

SHOULD HAVE UNQUALIFIED SUPPORT.

The bill to appropriate $156,000 in the budget for support of the A. & M. College for dairy buildings and equipment, should have the unqualified support of every member of the legislature. In a strong and timely editorial on the importance of passing the bill the Meridian Star says:

"With the dairy cow fast coming into her own in Mississippi; with this State leading all the South in modern dairying, advancement and with the dairy development as our major rosy hope of sound and speedy economic progress, it strikes us that this dairy educational appropriation represents a minimum of preparation to meet a pressing, present need.

"Mississippi A. & M. lags hopelessly behind our sister states in facilities for higher dairying education. Alabama's A. & M. dairy investment represents above $200,000; Louisiana, $171,000; Tennessee, $222,000; Texas, $130,000; Georgia, with a new appropriation, about $175,000; Missouri, $300,000; Oklahoma, $354,000; Mississippi with less than even $20,000.

"Even so, Mississippi is making greater dairy progress than any or all our sister southern states. We succeed in spite of our shortcomings. We win despite our handicaps.

"If Mississippi, with less than $20,000 investment in university dairying buildings and equipment, can lead the South in cow-dom achievement, what could we not achieve if given adequate legislative appropriations and development facilities?

"Old Bossy has done wonders for the State of Mississippi. Give her a chance to do more.

"Invest in the dairy cow—and the dairy cow will repay."

THE MORAL OF FACTIONAL FIGHTING.

The Echo some time ago believed the existence of factionalism in our State very unfavorable. As we now look at it we believe Mississippi has suffered no very great injury because of the fight that has been going on between the two elements which have struggled for several years for mastery in the administration of the State's governmental affairs. Much rascality has been uncovered and it is found that about as many of one faction has been caught in wrong-doing as in the other, it affords an excellent opportunity for the people to rid the State of every man who has any part in keeping the fires of factionalism at white heat. There are hundreds of good business men—patriotic to their heart's core—who can and should be drafted for public service and the administration of our government affairs placed in their hands. For years they have held aloof from participation in politics because they were above entering into the mud-slinging and filthy contests which has marked the elections—both State and local—in recent years.

The Echo is optimistic enough to believe that there are better, cleaner, political conditions in store for the State, and they are to result from the exposure of so much rottenness in official circles at Jackson. The two factions have been at death grips—each seeking the destruction of the other, and we believe they have made a good job of it.

RUTH AND HOOVER COMPARED.

Babe Ruth, in the opinion of the Jackson Daily News, is well worth the $80,000 salary paid him by the New York Giants, which is just $5,000 more than President Hoover pulls down as chief magistrate of this great country.

The Jackson paper commenting on this fact, says:

The Bambino is worth it. Herbert Hoover isn't. Babe connects with the ball with disconcerting frequency. When he hits a home run multiplied millions applaud.

Herbert connects not at all. He has been standing at the plate for a whole year, with neither a single, a double, a triple, or a home run to his credit.

Babe Ruth is worth $80,000 a year to the Yankees. He can pull more money than that through the gates of the Yankee stadium in less than a month when the team is playing on the home grounds.

Herbert Hoover rattles around in his job like a bean in a bass drum. He never has, and never will get within hailing distance of earning that $75,000 salary.

Babe Ruth is a big man in action. Herbert Hoover is a perfect picture of inaction and inefficiency.

BILBO'S BIGGEST MISTAKE.

Governor Bilbo has made many mistakes during the period of his official life, but The Echo believes that his veto of the bill appropriating $2,500,000 for completion of the new insane asylum in Rankin county is the biggest of all his mistakes. Some 2500 or more patients are housed in the old fire trap at Jackson—several hundred more than it has adequate accommodation for—and just because His Excellency is denied the privilege and authority to name addressees in order to give him absolute control of the expenditure of such appropriation, he has the hardihood and audacity to veto the bill. Should the Jackson institution go up in smoke and hundreds of innocent lives be sacrificed we wonder if the governor would ever have any peace of mind.

THERE IS ANOTHER WAY.

Postmaster General Brown stated in an address he delivered in New York last week that the postoffice department is planning to ask Congress to approve an increase in the first-class postage rate to two and a half cents per ounce as the most feasible method of eliminating the annual postal deficit. It is not likely the plan will meet with favor, as there are other methods by which the deficit can be met. For instance a half cent raise in the postage on third class matter and also curtailing the franking privilege extended to congressmen and senators.

TAX EXEMPTIONS.

Before final adjournment the legislature ought to enact a bill reading something like this:

"Be it enacted by the legislature of the state of Mississippi that henceforth and hereafter no tax exemptions of any kind of character shall be granted."

And, to make it more binding, a constitutional amendment to the same effect should be submitted for adoption at the November election.

Tax exemptions are the chief cause of the economic ills with which our lawmakers are wrestling.

Class legislation is the curse of the commonwealth. The burden of taxation, like rain from heaven, should fall alike on the just and the unjust.

The statute books are cluttered with unjust, unreasonable, and inequitable measures exempting this industry or that industry, this person or that person, from taxation.

For illustration: State and Federal employees are not required to pay income taxes.

Why not? Nobody can offer a logical reason for the exemption, but it exists nevertheless.

The person who pulls down a fat salary for doing little or nothing at all, whose daily existence is made possible by the grace of the taxpayers, does not deserve and should not be relieved of the duty of bearing his share of the burden of government.—Jackson Daily News.

CITIES WANT COLOR

Spring and summer bring a coat of green and bright colors to the woods and fields in the country to rest the tired eyes. The restfulness of color is recognized everywhere but it remains for New Orleans to introduce the new idea in obtaining colors for cities and this plan is told in National Business by John L. Coontz as follows:

"Greater comfort for the shopper is constantly being sought by modern business. Carrying out this idea at New Orleans, La., business men's organization has undertaken to remove the intense glare of the sun on two of the city's principal shopping streets by introducing colored sidewalks."

Old Baronne, famous as a shopping rendezvous, is henceforth to wear an emerald hue and Canal street, equally as famous, is to sport a red one.

Discussing the commercial appeal of colored walks from the standpoint of the shopper, A. Harrison, Jr., president of the Baronne Street Association, says:

"In a city where the sun shines as brightly as it does in New Orleans green sidewalks will be a boon to the eyes of shoppers. Rain will bring out the color until the sidewalks are beautiful."

A PUBLIC NUISANCE.

Alphonse Capone, Chicago gangster, said to be the overlord of criminals that bid defiance to law, was recently released from jail in Philadelphia.

Returning to Chicago he is informed that the police will "pull him" anytime he appears on the street and thereupon, in a conference with officials, he announces, "Chicago is my home and I intend to stay here."

Subsequently, Capone decided to visit Florida but the governor of that State ordered his sheriffs to bar the gangster. Thereupon, he secures an order from a federal judge, enjoining the sheriffs from interfering with his journey.

This is a sorry spectacle. Here we have an undesirable citizen, if there ever was one, putting on a big "front" all over the country in a manner calculated to win the admiration of the gunmen in gangsterland. It is too bad that the United States seems to be unable to protect decent citizens from nuisances.

PITTOSPORUM TOBIRA

Now is the time to see this early spring flowering shrub in full bloom in a great many of the gardens along the Gulf Coast. It is not a native of this place, nevertheless it thrives here as if it were. It came from Japan.

The flowers of this shrub are not more than one inch in diameter when the five petals are opened wide. They grow in clusters of twelve or fourteen blooms to each head, or bunch, and the terminus of every branch or twig of this shrub which is exposed to the sunlight and gets plenty of air is tipped with a crown of three bridal wreath jewels so that the tree looks very much like a snow bespeckled tree of the Northern country in the winter time.

The shrub is an evergreen with very dark leaves of about a finger's length link and widening from the stem to a semi-circle and a little more than one inch in width, with a white spine tracing through the center.

The flowers are exceedingly fragrant and the exquisite odor never fails to attract the attention of any person who is interested in flowers and visiting this part of the country for the first time. When there is to be a wedding and there are no orange blossoms to be had for a bridal wreath or a bouquet a cluster of Pittosporum flowers will make a most charming substitute for them as similar in looks, only smaller, by cutting off the little bunches of flowers and removing all the leaves and then binding them to a twig or wire with ferns of some kind as a background they will make a very dainty and pretty gift.

The acknowledgement of such a floral offering for any occasion and the great pleasure it will give in the making will be like a ray of sunlight after many days of darkness.

In odor is very much like the fragrance of the orange blossoms, and makes these flowers still more adaptable for a bride to wear, and also the fact that the name Pittosporum is derived from a Greek word meaning "pitch" a wedding where such flowers are used will surely secure permanent adhesion. A small bush will cost $1.

An Economical Transportation

It's wise to choose a SIX!

It is wise to choose a six-cylinder motor—the only way to get six-cylinder smoothness. Six-cylinder smoothness takes out vibration and roughness. This saves motor, chassis, body, passengers, and driver.

The Chevrolet is a six. Yet it sells at a price that anyone can afford to pay. And it lasts longer, because of fine materials, oversize parts and a big, smooth, 50-horsepower six-cylinder engine that always "takes it easy."

With all its six-cylinder smoothness and power the New Chevrolet Six saves gasoline and oil, through modern efficiency—overhead valves—high compression power—latest carburetor—long-wearing pistons—crankcase ventilation—air cleaner. Thus Chevrolet brings truly modern transportation within reach of all who can afford any car. Chevrolet economy also means sincerity in manufacture. To illustrate:

Chevrolet valves are adjustable—to save replacing. Chevrolet molded brakelining greatly reduces brakeup-keep. The rear axle inspection plate on the Chevrolet means accessibility.

The whole car is full of such evidence that true economy comes from advancement and refinement. There are four extra-long, chrome-va-nadium springs controlled by hydraulic shock absorbers. They are mounted lengthwise, in the direction of car travel, with self-adjusting spring shackles to maintain quiet.

Modern low suspension and extra wheelbase give the Chevrolet Six good proportions. The front view is distinguished by the honeycomb radiator. The gasoline tank is at the rear for safety and finer appearance.

Chevrolet beauty instantly says "Body by Fisher"—style, quiet, safety—Fisher composite steel-and-wood construction—non-glare windshield—adjustable driver's seat—deeper cushions—greater leg room—clearer vision—finer fabrics and fittings.

There is just as much extra value throughout. BY ANY STANDARD the Chevrolet Six is the wisest choice in the low-price field... with its six-cylinder valve-in-head motor... with full scientific equipment... with Body by Fisher... with four long semi-elliptic springs, long wheelbase, low suspension, rear-mounted gasoline tank, honeycomb radiator and all the other features of this day and age.

AS OTHERS VIEW ANTICS OF GOVERNORS OF TWO STATES—MISS. AND LA.

Times-Picayune Correspondent Paints Long As Is—Jackson Clarion-Ledger Editorially Discourses on Bilbo—Spicy Resolving—Food For Thought.

A CHARACTER SKETCH

New Orleans, April 3, 1930.
Editor of The Times-Picayune:
I have been listening without wonder, but with some fear, to the recent addresses of the irresponsible Huey P. Long, who has taken to the radio once more in an effort to fool the people by diverting their minds from his conduct of his office, his personal conduct since he became governor, and to distract their attention from the alignments he has made and now maintains with the predatory political, financial and industrial powers, the denunciation of which won the governorship for him.

Huey spent years ringing the corrupt New Orleans. He charged it with all the crimes in the calendar. Huey denounced the Standard Oil and won favor with the oil-poll by that denunciation. He now seeks to use the popular fight against the chain stores as a means for regaining his lost popularity among the common people.

Recently he inspired the report that he was engaged in reading the Bible when the captain of the Emden and the German consul called on him and found him arrayed in the famous green pajamas.

In his recent radio talk, he again goes back to the Bible in the hope that quotations from the Holy Book will win back the favor of the simple, honest, religious folk of the section that gave him his biggest vote in past elections.

In the pretended fight on the chain stores, Huey can hardly fail to know that he is "the white-haired boy" of the chain public utility interests of Louisiana. His close friendship with Harvey Connally and his intimacy with Harry Abel, to represent the billionaire combine and the unquestioned loyalty of the gentlemen to him, makes Huey's latest sham battle against chain stores so transparent a fraud that even the "boobies" will hardly fall for it.

Huey is going to need more than the help of Henderson and his radio station, more help than Edmonds and Trist and the misnamed "Louisiana Progress" can render to get him through the coming session of the Louisiana Legislature.

The good brothers of the northern part of the state, who formerly looked upon Huey as a crusader for the cause of prohibition, though they have not been close enough to get a whiff of his breath since he made his residence in New Orleans, have heard enough of Huey's doings down here to know that he is not the foe of demon rum that he pretended to be. Huey's paper, financed by taxing state employees, steps forth with the bold statement that it will expose all liars in the state. If it operates consistently, it will start in with Huey as the chief and most exalted of all liars.

In every claim he makes, he proves himself a fraud. His paved highway claims should be exposed by the press. The publishers are not aware of the condition of the paved roads which Huey's multitude of engineers supervised; they know that the state of Louisiana is not seeking federal aid; they know that it is not pride that withholds our asking this aid, but that it is because the Highway Commission, under Huey's domination, does not want the standard of road construction which federal engineers would demand in lending federal aid.

Huey's claims for having wiped out illiteracy in the state is believed by any of his unexperienced written statements.

Huey's pretended war on the chain stores and his denunciation of their operators as bandits, more unwelcome in the state than Al Capone, is only calculated to do injury to the honest fight against the chain system of merchandising which is being waged by honest men.

Huey's denunciation of graft and waste in public office under the administration of other governors, is ludicrous when one recalls the charge which was made against Huey in the special legislative session of April, 1929.

Before the battle opens in May, it should be recalled to public attention that this prince of fakers, this counterfeit Mussolini, was the first of Louisiana governors to be charged with stealing public funds and using those funds for his personal profit or pleasure.

It should be recalled that Huey was charged with other serious offenses, maybe more serious, in the charge of stealing a few thousands of the public funds.

It should be recalled that a number of specific charges were made and that the general charge that he was "guilty of high crimes and misdemeanors in office, corruption, incompetency, favoritism, extortion, etc.," is yet unanswered by this modern "Moses."

It should be remembered that although Huey was certain of sufficient backing in the Senate to make conviction impossible, he moved heaven and earth to escape trial and cross-examination.

Huey has, since April, 1929, put the knightly sign of the double cross on so many of his valiant followers, that even the new-found or new-bought support of some Old Regular senators from Orleans will have to save him from trial when the matter comes up in May.

All of which I set forth because the little hypocrite is again in the public eye as a crusader for causes which would fare better without his poisonous assistance. He would welcome Capone as an exchange for the chain stores. Most Louisianians would breathe better with the departure of Huey and the chains stores for merchandising food, as well as chain public utility corporations with which Huey is now on such friendly terms. And if we had to

WHY PEOPLE LAUGH AT MISSISSIPPI

(Editorial Jackson Clarion-Ledger)
By no stretch of the imagination can the Mississippi legislature be blamed for the sordid failure of the administration.

The record of the past three years in the capitol is one of the poorest ever made in this state. It reeks of inefficiency and incompetency.

It merely serves, however, to reflect the inefficiency of the group responsible for the administering of the state's affairs—the administration crowd.

Governor Bilbo has sought in every way possible to place the blame for his dismal failure upon the legislature. It cannot be done. Some ill advised people censure the legislature for not producing more constructive work.

They fail to consider that the legislature cannot do it all. The solons can draft bills and enact laws, but they cannot write them on the statute book unless the executive does his share.

Thus for the executive has not cared for the laws that have come to his desk.

That is his affair.

If he doesn't like them he can turn them down.

But when he turns them down he cannot blame the solons, neither can the people.

The house of representatives on four occasions sent Bilbo a highway program. Twice it was blocked in the senate. Once an administration filibuster was broken down in the upper body and a highway program was put on the governor's desk to receive his veto.

Now the legislature is about to put a highway program on his desk again. What will he do about it?

No one knows. He has had little to say about highways of late. He has been sulking in his tent because the house recently knocked his public printing bill into a cocked hat.

The Mississippi legislature is composed of some of the best minds of the state. It is the theory of democratic government that counties are represented in the legislature by the most constructive thought that can be mustered.

It is clear then that Mississippi counties have entrusted their affairs to the minds of men in whom they have confidence, men they know, men who have grown up in their communities, men who have succeeded in business and in their professions.

Doesn't it stand to reason that the people have more confidence in the judgment of these men—men they know better than anybody else will know Bilbo—than they would have in wild schemes about which they know nothing but theories of an inexperienced mind.

Bilbo is not a printer, and yet he professes to know more about the art of printing than any of the newspaper editors in the house of representatives.

He is not an engineer, and yet he professes to know more about the science of road building than any engineer in the house of representatives.

He is not a banker, and yet he professes to know more about the science of banking than any banker in the legislature.

Doesn't it stand to reason that a man so stuffed with conceit is in a terrible predicament when he is confronted with cool, calm, unbiased expert judgment?

Bilbo is a lawyer and should know something about law, and yet in the face of disapproval of the best legal minds of the legislature and the capitol he issues to Carl Marshall a pardon that couldn't stand up in any court in the land, not even a J. P. court!

The legislature has given Bilbo just what he asked for—chaos.

It was his administration. He laid down the rules of the game. Nobody could reason with him. When he asked for compromise he was given compromise—and then didn't want it.

When he asked for conferences his invitation was accepted—and then he held no conferences.

When he asked for a special session to consider important legislation, the legislature came to him in a harmonious spirit, and he cut them short by ordering them to do only what he wanted done, or nothing at all. There was only one alternative—do nothing.

Last summer he had the entire legislature twisting its thumbs after he turned down the house compromise road bill and said he would accept an appointive highway commission or nothing.

No well informed man can blame the Mississippi legislature for the downfall of this administration.

This administration must take away from the capitol the poorest, sorriest, most unenviable record that any former administration ever knew and nobody is to blame but the man who has sat in the governor's chair for three years and growled and grumbled and fumed and fretted because the legislature would not bow their heads and wills and ideas to his own petty desires.

It is no wonder that administration men are breaking away. It is no wonder that the people are breaking away. It is no wonder that the people of this state are weary of the actions and conduct of the state senators and representatives in the next session of the legislature in May, and that every one who falls to properly perform his sacred duty, be deprived forever of holding any office of trust or remuneration in this state.

Covington Meet.

Five members of the Track team were taken to Covington by Coach Perkins to compete in the Track meet that was held there. They were: Saucier, Luman, Vallon, Garcia, and Korndorfer. Together they managed to score up 22 points.

Saucier took first place in the discus; Luman, first place in the shot-put; Korndorfer first in the low hurdles; Garcia second in the 100-yard dash and Vallon bringing third place in the pole-vault. In the relay, another three points were scored by taking second place, all boys helping in this.

Each of the boys took a place, and that is just a sample of what is now being tried out at the green every evening. The Biloxi Regional Meet wonder the influence of the governor has got to pieces. It is no wonder that Bilbo men today are voting just the way they want to vote and there is no more organization in their ranks than there is constructive judgment in the acts of their executive.

There was a time when the hinges of the house of representatives groaned under the weight of the administration dashed out ever and anon to consult with the executive every time an important measure arose. That time is gone. Bilbo men in the legislature have realized by now that there is nothing Bilbo can tell them.

There is such a thing as a man making a jackass out of himself so many times that no one will have any more confidence in him. Men will back up a friend to a certain limit, even if he is a jackass, but they won't back him up to the point of being branded jackasses themselves!

The printing plant bill will not be passed. It is dead.

There will be no trifling brick roads built in Mississippi. Nobody wanted them, including Bilbo.

Therefore nothing Bilbo promises in the campaign of 1927 will be carried out.

Nobody is to blame but Bilbo. If he were shrewd enough to lead many voters to believe he could do something wholly impossible, he would surely a matter for him to explain to the people, and anyone with confidence in the people must realize that they cannot be fooled twice about the same thing.

The simple truth of the matter is Bilbo has made a great failure of his administration because he was narrow and small enough to try to be a tin-horn dictator in a state where red-blooded men and women breathe air of freedom and scorn the pretenses of a despot.

will show what Stanislaus has.

We Wonder—
Who got an idea during English.
Who was disappointed Sunday.
Why Slade has taken an interest in Baseball.
Why the Seniors were using so many dictionaries Tuesday.
Why Garcia is so brutal.
Who is wearing glasses.
Where Brandt gets his jokes.
Who is said to resemble the accused.
Who Posner likes to ride to and from the green with.
Why O'Leary is called Lord Byron.
Why Posner is downhearted.
Why C. Genard bought a razor.
Where Tuga Glover is spending Easter.
Why Red Reine is remaining here for Easter.

Spick and Span would like to know who is the prize fighter of the Little Study Hall?
Why Smythe is going out for the low hurdles?
Why P. Burguieres is called "Bug Ears"?

Juniors Play A Game.

A fine baseball game was pulled off in the College yard Sunday morning between R. Kidd's Red Necks and Smyth's Mud Hens. The game ended with the Mud Hens winning with a score of 5 to 3.

Bro. Conrad caught for both sides, while Kidd, Lang and Hayden pitched for the Red Necks, and Smythe, Roth and Hober pitched for the Mud Hens.

Notice.

The Stanislaus Seniors herein wish to sincerely thank Judge Walter P. White of the Circuit Court for the extraordinary privilege tendered them at the recent session of the court in Bay St. Louis, Miss. We also thank Mr. A. G. Favre for his courtesy in extending us the invitation to attend the session.

Our knowledge of Psychology was greatly broadened by our attendance at the trial of Willie Bennett last Friday, Saturday and Monday. In addition to learning how the court is run, how juries are picked, their duties and how arguments are presented and witnesses examined. We had the opportunity to study people under abnormal stress of mind. Having had choice seats in the courtroom due to the kindness of the judge we had first hand chance to view and hear all the proceedings from beginning to end. Some may question the wisdom of allowing school boys to attend such an affair. Let me say there are many things one can't learn in books.

Many men and women, grown citizens do not know how law and justice are administered. The best proof of this fact is demonstrated in the difficulty the court had in picking a jury for this case. Many of the potential jurors who composed the venire knew not what the requisites were for one to sit on the jury. The Seniors feel sure that what they learned in these three days will prove quite an asset to them in addition to giving a compliment to their education.

Oh, what a girl said Johnny McGraw—

As he sat in the seat of his brand new car she'll sink.

Ill give her a wave and asweet little wink.

Then perhaps on the cushion of my car she'll sink.

It's a car waiting to be tried, And perhaps the girl is sort of tired. So he gave her the wave, and sweet little wink.

In return she accepted to ride, in his rinky-dink.

Johnny felt great, happy and fine, So he asked her where she would like to dine.

Four years later at the Cabaret "Cheef,"

Johnny discovered he had two dollars left.

He later felt funny! Yes sort of dizzy And when he awoke? Gone was his "Lizzie."

He then walked home, without any smiles, For he had to walk just fifty miles. He then learned a lesson—he was not to forget,

"All girls that you meet, or not to be met."

Last Saturday the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin held its weekly meeting in the study hall but since we were pressed for time, the meeting was short.

Ignatius Colotta gave a short talk on the missions and sort of pepped up the drive. He suggested that each student put one cent a day in the mission box. He also stressed the point that we should deprive ourselves a little bit during the Lenten season, and surely this is a little bit too late to make some more promises.

President Falcout called in Charlie Genard to make a short talk. Genard called the attention of his committeemen that there would be a meeting in Brother Edmund's room at seven o'clock. He remarked that there were a considerable amount of dues unpaid and said that if they were not paid by the first of May the delinquents will be dismissed from the sodality. Those who have not yet received their "Queens Work" will kindly get them from Charlie.

President Falcout called the attention of the Sodality to the fact that the best cartoon under the auspices of the Queen's Work is now on. He urged that every sodality member complete.

Alonso Gasque gave a very eloquent speech. He spoke of the unnecessary things we sometimes say about the fact that you have nothing to say about a person that is not good, don't say anything. Surely it will not help him out, and by keeping quiet you will do much better."

WORK AND PLAY AT S. J. A.

People of Bay St. Louis To give Fair for Proposed S. J. A. Gym.

The friends of S. J. A. responded most generously to the appeal for help that has been made to them by the Sisters in regard to the large Fair to be given in the early part of May for the benefit of the Proposed S. J. A. Gym.

Judging from the enthusiasm displayed at the meeting held at the Convent last Monday the Fair is bound to prove a success. Those present at the meeting under the temporary chairmanship of Mayor Traub volunteered to take entire charge of the Festival which is to last two days, Saturday and Sunday, May 3 and 4. Many plans were suggested and various committees appointed.

The Home-Made Candy Booth was assigned to the Children of Mary, the Tombola was given to the St. Agnes Sodality, while the Holy Angels Sodality was given charge of the Fish Pond. Each member of these Sodalties will do their best and have already started to work with might and main to make their representative booths a success.

The Sisters were delighted with the results of the meeting and wish to thank all who are cooperating so wholeheartedly with them.

Inter-Class Track Meet:

Unusual excitement pervaded the usual placid (?) atmosphere of the High school Tuesday and made us wonder what all the hub-bub was about. A glance at the bulletin board however soon gave us the required enlightenment—an inter-class track meet was to take place that afternoon.

Of course the Seniors were positive they would win and from the loud talking the Juniors were making they would surely prove the undisputed champions. While the Sophomores clamorously maintained that victory would be theirs, the brave-hearted but green little Freshies persisted that they just couldn't be beat.

Promptly at three the girls made a dash for the yard where Coach Mary had all in readiness for them. Each in turn the candidates of the various classes tried her skill at the different events—standing and running high jump, standing and running broad jump—A 50 and 100 yard dash and last but not least a Relay Race.

The Sophomores despite the good fight put up by the other classes proved themselves champions of the day with the Seniors, Juniors and Freshies coming up for second, third and fourth place respectively. The record made by each class in the various races follows:

Standing broad jump: Ann Partridge, first; Catherine Scafield second; Dot Moss third; Dot Daniels, fourth.

Running high jump: Ann Partridge, first; Catherine Scafield second; Anna Mae Blaize third; Jean Manfraw fourth.

Standing broad jump: Eleanor Ataway, first; Marie Quintini second; Dot Daniels third; Yvette Telhiard fourth.

Sodality News.

The Children of Mary held their weekly meeting last Thursday and since this one was to be spiritual it was suggested that the Sodality should recite the Office of the Blessed Virgin Mary. The meeting took place in the convent chapel. After reciting the Litany of Our Blessed Mother and singing a hymn in her honor the girls were dismissed.

Plans for the coming Fair will be discussed at the next meeting. The home-made candy booth was assigned to the Sodality by the committee in charge of the Fair and the Sodalties will propose various ways and means of making their booth a success at their weekly meeting next Thursday.

Concerning Royalty

"Are kings and queens always good daddy?" asked the small daughter, looking up from her fairy book.

"They are not," snorted the practical parent, deep in the sport page. "Nine time out of ten, you'll find three out against them."

BRYAN'S PET BANK BILL IN NEBRASKA IS REPEALED

Lincoln, Neb., April 7.—When Governor Arthur J. Weaver of Nebraska recently signed a bill repealing the state's bank guaranty law, it marked the virtual passing of a favorite principle of William Jennings Bryan.

It was one of the chief issues of the last two Bryan campaigns. Out of it grew more than a dozen state bank guaranty laws, modeled on the same plan, in as many states. Only one is left, that of the state of Mississippi.

Even as late as three years ago agitation in Iowa for a similar law was strong enough to be one of the most bitterly contested issues before the legislature.

The Nebraska guaranty fund was conceded to be "in the red" between $16,000,000 and $20,000,000.

It was the only unlimited guaranty scheme to exist for any considerable time in the United States. Most of the other states that passed guaranty laws adopted some kind of limit to the bankers' obligations.

G. C. M. A. KEEPS
SCORE CLEAN

G. C. M. A. won its third consecutive victory defeating Jones County Agricultural High School by a decisive score of 10 to 3. Previously to this it defeated first, Mississippi City by a score of 7 to 3, and Gulfport high school tigers by a score of 3 to 0.

The game yesterday was featured by the heavy hitting of the cadets, who cornered 16 runs and 16 hits, while Walters and Alberts hurled for G. C. M. A. had no difficulty in holding the Aggies down to 6 scattered hits, and three runs.

Walters a new man this year followed up his great victory over the Gulfport tigers by allowing only six hits today. The bats of Lefty Corman, Bob Conner, and Shrimp Morris cracked consistently for the cadets, and was largely responsible for their over-whelming victory. Sims the initial sacker for the Aggies batted well.

THE BUS BILL PASSES THE LOWER HOUSE OF CONGRESS

This is one of the worst pieces of legislation that has ever passed the American Congress. It went through the House on Monday March 24th, and now goes to the Senate.

It was sponsored by some railroads and bus companies that want to consolidate, or merge, so as to shut out competition, and was shoved through the House under the gag rules now in operation in that body by which full and ample debate on amendments was denied.

If every individual in the United States understood exactly what this bill means there would be such an uprising against it that the Senate would kill it so dead you would never hear of it again.

I am not opposed to railroads, and I am not opposed to interstate bus lines, but I am opposed to monopolies that suppress all competition and paralyze local traffic.

If this bill becomes a law, it will be almost like erecting a concrete wall across public highways along state lines, so far as the great bulk of local passenger traffic is concerned. If this bill should become a law, and an individual should load up his truck, or his school bus, with more than seven of his neighbors including himself and carry them across the state line to a fair, to a ball game, to a trade center, to a farmers picnic, to church, to a picture show, to a funeral, or for any other purpose traveling on a public highway which has been taxed to build and maintain, and charge them even enough to pay for his gasoline, without first securing a permit from the Interstate Commerce Commission, he would be subject to indictment in the Federal Court.

Read that statement twice, and see what this means to you, your children, your neighbors, your city, or your community.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is two years behind now, and the chances are that an applicant, who is not in the business regularly, would never get a permit, or if he did, it would be too late for it to be of any use.

I tried to get an amendment to the bill to exempt from its provisions persons operating motor vehicles hired or leased for an occasional trip, or order to protect people living near state lines, but it was voted down. We were shut off with only five minutes on that amendment.

The opposition to the amendment was led by those supporting the bill, and it was defeated by the reactionary element in the House, which showed that those in charge of this legislation were not even to protect the traffic among citizens of different states in counties, cities and localities touching state lines.

Not only that, but they adopted an amendment to make it apply to any one attempting to operate a motor vehicle "within any park or reservation under the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States."

Therefore, our people are thus excluded from taking their neighbors and others into or through the great National parks of America, or the sacred National Battle field parks, or cemeteries, of the country, if they receive the slightest compensation for their time, their machine, or their gasoline, without first getting a permit from Washington and complying with regulations which will render it impossible for them to ever secure a permit at all, ninety-nine times out of a hundred.

We are still permitted to pay the taxes to build and maintain these highways, but our people are thus driven from them by the Congress of the United States. For what purpose? In order to turn them over to the Interstate Bus Lines, and the railroads owning Interstate Bus Lines.

This is just one phase of the bill. It also repeals the anti-trust laws of the country and wipes out the anti-trust laws of the states insofar as they apply to passenger traffic and permits the consolidation of bus lines and the merger of bus lines with railroads.

It requires running on regular schedule and securing a "certificate of public necessity and convenience," before securing it, permits the Interstate Commerce Commission to pass on or to fix the rates to be charged. This simply means that all we have gained in developing cheap passenger transportation through the use of motor vehicles within the last two decades will have been swept away, except as to those who travel in their own private cars.

It means the turning over of our highways to the railroads and the large bus corporations where we will ultimately pay the same fare for transportation as we now pay on the railroads, and at the same time be taxed to build and maintain the highways over which they pass.

There was no public demand for this bill. The people of the country were not consulted. If they had been, and had known what was in the measure, there would have been such a barrage of protests pouring into Washington that it would have killed it before it ever left the committee.

The bill now goes to the Senate. Our only chance to defeat it, or divert it of any of its sinister provisions, is by appealing to the members of the body.

It is one of the most drastic, it is most far reaching, the most dangerous, the most discriminatory, the most paralyzing, the most unjust, and the most unnecessary pieces of legislation that has ever passed the American Congress, and I want to appeal

CHEVROLET CAR HAS NEW PLANT AT TARRYTOWN, N. Y.

Detroit, April 9.—The Chevrolet Motor Company today announces an expansion of its production capacity through the opening last week of the rebuilt and enlarged assembly and export plant at Tarrytown, N. Y.

The new Tarrytown plant has a capacity of 900 cars daily and is one of the nine assembly plants and one of two export plants maintained by Chevrolet in the United States. Completion of this plant places Chevrolet in a more advantageous position to meet rapidly expanding sales requirements for its product along the Atlantic seaboard. In addition, the move was made to thoroughly modernize the plant and bring it up to the high standard of equipment and efficiency that characterizes Chevrolet plants in other sections of the country.

The new plant is a one story, brick and steel structure, 1,200 by 400 ft., with monitor type roof, providing for the maximum light and ventilation. Adjoining it is a new two story office building, 200 by 60 feet, of concrete and brick construction.

The plant has two domestic assembly lines and an export boxing line. The export division of the Tarrytown plant serves many countries at present inaccessible to overseas Chevrolet plants. In several instances Chevrolet finds it more expedient to ship direct from Tarrytown to a foreign country than from a Chevrolet plant overseas. In the case of the Tarrytown plant this applies only to countries that receive cars fully assembled. The other Chevrolet export plant at Bloomfield, N. J., ships only knocked down parts for assembly at General Motors plants overseas.

The finished Chevrolet cars, assembled and boxed at Tarrytown are put on barges and floated down to New York City, where they are put aboard ships for various parts of the world.

Insistent on Accuracy
An instance of the precision manufacturing methods employed by the Chevrolet Motor Company is seen in a statement today that 5,192 separate inspections enter into the building of every motor for a Chevrolet car. So insistent is the company on accuracy in both material and workmanship that one man in six at the giant Chevrolet Plant at Flint, Michigan, is an inspector.

The opposition to the amendment was led by those supporting the bill, and it was defeated by the reactionary element in the House, which showed that those in charge of this legislation were not even to protect the traffic among citizens of different states in counties, cities and localities touching state lines.

Not only that, but they adopted an amendment to make it apply to any one attempting to operate a motor vehicle "within any park or reservation under the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States."

LOSS OF REVENUE CONFRONTS CITIES

Privilege Tax Bill now Pending Would Deprive Municipalities of Taxes.

Mississippi cities of the first and second class will lose revenue of from $2,000 to $4,000 annually, if the privilege tax bill number 517, now pending in the senate, becomes a law, according to various municipal authorities.

The bill, which has already passed the house, and is now in the senate, would deprive cities of the right to collect privilege taxes from electric plants, contractors, cigar, ettes, gas plants, street railways, telephone companies, feed mills, building and loan associations, cigar stands, fertilizer factories, hide dealers, hairdressers, merchandise brokers, road machinery dealers and security dealers.

A movement has been launched by a number of municipalities, in support of amendments to the bill, which will allow cities to continue collection of the tax. It is expected that pressure will be brought to bear on various senators, to enlist their support of the amendments.

All Mississippi cities will be equally benefited by ratifications of amendments to the pending tax bill.

Marconi Amazes Again.
When Guglielmo Marconi pressed a telegraph key in the harbor of Genoa, Italy, and transmitted enough electric energy to close a circuit which lighted thousands of incandescent bulbs in Australia, he demonstrated the remarkable control which has been acquired over wireless.

The Italian says that the impulse traveled at least 14,000 miles but that as it moved at the speed of light only a second of a second was required for its flight. From Genoa the signal was picked up by the wireless station at Somerset, England, transmitted by telegraph lines to Grimsley where the powerful beam station shot it through space to a similar station in Australia, where it again went over land lines to the town hall at Sydney, causing a delicate needle to remove the necessary contact.

We are frank to admit that the achievement of Marconi is a revelation but that its full significance escapes our non-technical minds. Just what will be the practical development we do not know but that something of tremendous import impends can be really believed.

ADVERTISE IS ADVICE OF CHAIN STORE HEAD
Listen to the publicity director of one of the large chain stores before a gathering of delegates representing this particular chain.

"The newspaper is the one publication that actually goes home and takes a seat at the family table—an integral part of the family. Therefore, newspaper advertising comes first. I firmly believe in the slogan that you can't sell 'em if you don't tell 'em."

There's the secret of the whole matter; there is the meat of the coconut—advertising.

What is it that built up the mail order business? Advertising! Advertising! They believe in advertising, and they put their belief into practice, and reap the results.

The independent merchant can do the same. But he must remember that the way people purchased 20 years ago and now is a very different matter. He must bring his merchandise up to the 20th century way—and the chief factor in modern merchandising is consistent newspaper advertising.—West Point Times-Leader.

ANENT THAT AIR-LINE HIGHWAY.

Our attention has been called to an editorial article which appeared in a recent issue of the Slidell Sun, being a reprint from the St. Tammany Farmer, in which an appeal is made to Governor Huey Long to withhold his support and that of the Louisiana highway commission from the proposed air line highway from New Orleans to the Mississippi State line.

In the first place, we understand that Governor Long has already announced his approval of the construction of such highway, and it is rather a belated effort on the part of our St. Tammany Farmer and Slidell Sun brethren to try to get him to oppose the construction of the highway.

The Echo is informed by reliable and trustworthy engineers, who have made preliminary surveys of the proposed route of the airline highway from Rigolets to Pearlport, that the highway can be built at far less cost than the sum quoted by the St. Tammany Farmer, and the argument put up by that paper is evidently based on figures furnished it by inexperienced and biased engineers, if indeed they could be classed as engineers at all.

The people of New Orleans favor the air line route in order to cut the distance to be traveled between that city and the Gulf Coast, and there are no grounds for our Louisiana contemporary to charge that our Gulf coast people favor the construction of the highway for any other than the same reason. To even intimate that the support they are giving the proposed air line route is actuated by any mercenary motive—to sell real estate, as the article states—is both unworthy, uncalled for and without any foundation.

The Echo does not believe that the appeal made to Governor Long and the Louisiana highway commission by the St. Tammany Farmer, or similar urging from any other source, is going to have the effect desired, and for that reason we expect to see the air line highway constructed at a much earlier day than we hoped for some time since.

Every intelligent and far seeing person who favors the construction of such highway readily understands why its building is opposed by the business interests of the northern section of St. Tammany parish. So long as the route of the present highway is used by tourists, and other folks traveling it, just so long will Slidell and Pearl River street vendors of soft drinks and sandwiches continue to enjoy a flourishing trade.

It is not the Echo's purpose to be severe on our Louisiana press brethren but we would advise them that it is better for them to refrain from misrepresentation on which to bolster up their fight against the air line route. Governor Long and his highway commission can and will build the proposed road, and that, too, without hurt to other highway construction projects throughout Louisiana. The Mississippi Gulf coast is the favorite resort and recreational section with the vast majority of the people of Orleans parish and they are the largest contributors to the tax funds of Louisiana of any parish in the State. It is their wish that the air line route be constructed and Governor Long and the highway commission will see that their wishes are respected.

COAST LOOP NAMES BOARD OF APPEALS

The board of appeals of the Mississippi Coast League was elected at Gulfport at a meeting of the directors this week. Anthony Catchot, mayor of Ocean Springs; B. F. Swartzkopf of Lyman and former president of the Lyman club, and B. D. Wilder of Biloxi, vice-president of the circuit, were the members of the appeal board who decided on the league as law in the activities of the league this summer.

The new appeal board succeeds Dr. G. F. Carroll of Biloxi, Charles Traub, mayor of Bay St. Louis, and James A. Barksdale, Gulfport city engineer. The directors remained in session behind closed doors for two hours but transacted little business with the exception of electing the appeal board. Several amendments to the league constitution were advocated by Earl Martin, president-manager of the Pass Christian club. Other directors present with President J. A. Barksdale and Secretary K. P. Kaiser were Fred Fayard of St. Louis, Jules Sablich of Biloxi, Oscar Johnson of Ocean Springs and Clinton Blackwell of Lyman.

Scarf for the dressers at the hospital are also needed and the gift of either second hand or new ones will be gratefully received.

Large Azaleas in Bloom

Again this season as in many past the beautiful large azalea tree at the home of Miss Nettie Koch at Logstown is filled with wonderful bloom. For the past ten days or two weeks the tree has been magnificent with its great weight of flowers. Many friends who have visited the home have been delighted with sprays of flowers from this tree and some of blossoms were sent to the King's Daughters Hospital at Gulfport for the charity ward. The Koch azalea, as this tree is known, is the largest in this section.

BY GRACE VIAL GRAY

"IT IS SMART TO BE THRIFTY"

By using inexpensive foods rather than the more expensive ones, we can cut our food bills considerably. For instance, there are many delicious inexpensive cuts of meat that gives us the same nourishment as the expensive choice cuts. If these cuts are properly prepared and then cooked and served attractively, we are not depriving our family of good food even if we are saving money.

Milk is one of our best foods and when the food value is considered, it is an inexpensive one. Use milk in all forms and in all possible ways. But termilk and skim milk have good food value. Milk can be used as the basis in soups, in white sauce for vegetables and left-over meats, and in many desserts as custards, puddings and souffles.

Self-rising flour is economical. It is cheaper to have the manufacturer combine flour, salt and baking powder than for each individual housewife to do so, for the miller gives the housewife the advantage of car-lot prices on these materials. Fewer eggs are required when using self-rising flour for cakes, cookies and muffins. Use only 1 egg for each one and one-half cupfuls of self-rising flour in butter cakes. By using flour that has been prepared for use we can save many dollars. And not only are we saving money but we are giving our family good food.

The economy cake below is well worth trying on your next baking day. Economy Cake (Using Only One Egg)

1/2 cup sugar 1 egg
1/2 cup butter 1 1/2 cups self-rising flour
Salt 1/2 tsp. vanilla
1/2 cup liquid

Cream the butter to the consistency of cream. Add sugar and continue to cream until the granules have dissolved, add the unbeaten egg and beat until blended. Add the flour and the milk alternately, then the vanilla. Fold the flour in quickly and gently handling as little as possible. Pour into a well-greased pan and bake in a moderate oven—350 degrees Fahrenheit—thirty minutes. This makes one large or two small layer cakes. This economy cake makes an inexpensive but elaborate dessert when served as Washington pie, that is, baked in two layers, with a cream filling placed between layers and whipped cream on top.

CENSUS ENUMERATOR SPEAKS OF WORK TO GROUP OF BAY BUSINESS MEN

Louis J. Norman Discusses Gigantic Work of Government and Significance.

Louis J. Norman, former Rotarian and local census enumerator, was the speaker Wednesday before the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club at its regular luncheon at the Hotel Weston, on which occasion there were a number of guests.

He told that he had recently finished a census in Hancock county of its manufacturing products, a record of industrial activity, and at present, under the heading of census work, a soil survey of Hancock county was in process by a government representative. These, he said, were essential for future development and growth of this section.

He told of what was required by the enumerator and that it would be of mutual benefit and would facilitate matters considerably if the party giving the information would give it without restraint. Parties refusing to give it would ultimately be forced by federal authority, he said. Incidentally he touched with force and emphasis and with clear logic, the economic crisis and in part the reason for this condition. He stated we were bordering on sovietism and socialism. Our spending propensity for exceeded our earning capacity, he said, and this disposition did not make for the substantial and dependable citizenry so much desired. His exposition of conditions and causes showed thought and sound treatment brought forth not only the applause of the club but individual congratulation at conclusion of the address.

WILD FLOWERS

The very name of Wild Flower to anyone who is at all interested in the greatest of the Creator's gifts is a thrilling thrill, for flowers, be they wild or ferocious or tame, like the garden species, are our very life, for they are the source of the food for our bodies, and for our souls too for they have lessons of wisdom, and much love to impart to us.

Living near anyone of Nature's beautiful flower gardens gives every one an opportunity of looking on life with a more rosy hue than from the brick walls or pavements of any city. Nature placed a wild or bog garden between the Jordan River and the Old Spanish Trail near Bay St. Louis and the beautiful blue featherly flowers of the wild stokesia can be found there from early summer to a bed-time when Father Frost tells them a bedtime story, when they have to go to sleep, but they will awaken in the spring for they are perennial. Then there are the white and yellow fringed Orchids, keeping close company with the blue feathered blossoms, and the Ladies Hat Pinks and the shooting blossoms, and many other curious and beautiful plants and flowers, growing in these bog places they like so well and may their love for these places be remembered that they will be kept for them as a home through all time.

JAMES M. SHERMAN.

"HOODLUMISM"

A Curtis-Wright ship, flying from Gulfport to Chicago, was forced down in a tree-top near Carrollton, Mississippi, and pretty well destroyed. In the excitement of transporting the injured parties from the wreck to a hospital the wrecked ship was unprotected and "hoodlums" stripped it of much of its detachable equipment.

Several thousand acres of reforested land in Harrison and Stone counties were criminally fired last week by incendiaries and thousands of dollars worth of young trees destroyed.

If there be one right in our civilization to life than any other, it is the right of property.

We are developing a sort of disregard for the rights of others—an indifference to justice—a sort of contempt for the rights of others.

Perhaps the curriculum within our public schools should emphasize more the fundamentals of good citizenship. Too much we have in evidence the disregard for the rights of others.

Banditry, theft, "hoodlumism" and other flagrant violations of well defined and established laws, that even in more barbarous days we accepted as heritages of experience and social stability, are but scraps of paper in the face of personal determination or mob misguidance.

We need a lot of schooling in good citizenship before democracy can be made safe for the world.—Gulfport Guide.

TABLE IN LEAF

A most rustic table is seen on the porch at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Weinberg on Second Street. This table is made from limbs of the trees which have not been peeled. The top of the table has been stained. The knots where the branches have been cut or joints made have been gilded. Yet leaves are growing from the knots through the gilt paint and are coming into full size. This table covered with growing leaves has attracted much attention. The table is one of those which a tourist artisan has been selling here.
